Brief Operational Details

Free Therapy?

We are delighted to inform you that our counseling and psychotherapy sessions are offered for FREE. However, it is important to acknowledge that this gesture is made possible through the contributions of our valued donors. In other words, our FREE treatment has a paid source. As an NGO, we remain reliant on donors for our activities; hence, we maintain our commitment to accountability and transparency in all our endeavors. Therefore, to ensure the efficacy and ethical conduct of our therapy sessions, we kindly request adherence to the following conditions if you would like to access this FREE service.

Free Therapy: Terms & Conditions

1. You will be required to provide informed consent by signing a formal agreement prior to starting therapy.
2. Commitment to the therapy process is essential, and you will be required to sign a therapy engagement contract.
3. Dedication to regular therapy sessions is expected from you.
4. You may be required to undergo psychological assessment as a key part of the treatment process including an initial intake assessment form.
5. The option for an in-person (physical) therapy session may be suggested at the discretion of your assigned therapist.
6. Upon the conclusion of the therapy session, you are required to formally sign a sign-out form, signifying your completion of treatment. Failure to achieve this indicates a refusal to conclude treatment, connoting that you did not complete your treatment with us.

Free Therapy: Our Dos

1. We provide confidential and stigma-free counseling services.
2. Promote awareness and education on mental health issues.
